

January/February Calendar

Enjoy these upcoming events in our hometown, compiled by Tualatin Tomorrow, the citizen long-range vision committee where arts and culture-related goals identified by residents are monitored. To submit an item, or serve on this committee, email larry.mcclure@gmail.com

Honoring Our Tualatin Namesakes

Sunday, February 12. Join with members of the Grand Ronde Confederated Tribe for an afternoon of Atfalati Indian cultural sharing about lifeways then and traditions still very much alive today. Music, dancing and traditional arts/crafts and presentations by tribal leaders. Sponsored by Tualatin Historical Society, this family-oriented event begins at 2 p.m. at the historic Winona Grange, 8340 Seneca Street, adjacent to the Commons. $3 suggested donation for adults and children/youth free. Refreshments will be served downstairs.

Acoustic Jam

Sunday, February 15, 3-6 p.m. Winona Grange, 8340 SW Seneca. If you want to play your acoustic instrument and/or sing with others in a bluegrass, old-time, country and folks style, join the fun. $1 donation at Winona Grange, 8340 SW Seneca except where noted. See www.sandairishentertainment.com for more information.

Irish Culture

- Dance classes, Thursdays, ages 13 and older, 7-9 p.m., $5, $10, $5 students and 65+
- Friday, February 4, First Friday Live Irish Music & Dance, $10, $5 students and seniors 65+, mind your children; Saturday, November 5:

- Saturday, February 11, 2nd Saturday Community Celtic Concert off the Commons featuring Laurence Nugent with Cary Novotny and Danny O'Hanlon, $20 or 6 for $100; 7:30-10pm, doors 6:45pm
- Sunday, February 12, Irish music jam session, 3-6 p.m., $1 donation

Watercolor Classes

Get rid of winter gray with a "TerrificTulips" all-day workshops February 10 or 11, lunch provided. February 13, 14. beginners to advanced classes, taught by award-winning Linda Aman (formerly based in Tualatin, now in Boise). See amanarts.com for registration details. Held at Tualatin Heritage Center. All materials provided.

Support Our School Performers

Thursday, February 16, Tualatin Elementary School 5th grade Civil Rights Concert, 6:30-7:30 p.m.

Mask and Mirror Community Theatre

"Robin Hood: The Musical" coming February 24-25 to Winona Grange in Tualatin, 8230 SW Seneca. See www.maskandmirror.com for details.