

National Night Out – August 2nd

'America's Night Out Against Crime'

BY: JENNIFER MASSEY,
TUALATIN POLICE DEPARTMENT PIO

National Night Out is a program the Tualatin Police Department has supported and participated in for several years. Annually, the first Tuesday in August, people nation-wide are encouraged to turn on their porch lights and go out and meet their neighbors.

The intention is to build strong neighborhood unity to demonstrate an active stance against criminal activity. The Tualatin Police Department participates in National Night Out by promoting and facilitating meetings and providing fun giveaway items at each event.

POLICE • COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

Along with traditional displays of outdoor lights and front-porch vigils, you can celebrate National Night Out with block parties, cookouts, visits from members of the Tualatin Police Department, exhibits, flashlight walks and more.

2015 was a very successful year for Tualatin's National Night Out! Tualatin Police personnel and McGruff the crime-fighting dog attended nearly 20 block parties throughout the community!

Tualatin Police Department encourages citizens to take this excellent opportunity to have a BBQ or block party and get to know your neighbors while enjoying a safe atmosphere with good summer fun.
